Corporate careers at Quad

The employees of Quad aren't just thinkers or doers, they're makers who do both to bring our full range of marketing solutions to life. In 1971, those makers were the people on our manufacturing floor. Today, they're still on our manufacturing floor but they're also the data scientists, accountants, marketers, HR specialists, sales leaders, or legal experts in corporate roles throughout our company. While their jobs are different, they share the same characteristics, including a passion to collaborate, embrace innovation and take pride in what they do.

At Quad, we're committed to creating a culture that promotes professional achievement and makes your work meaningful. Join us and let us help you take the next step in your career.

Health care careers at QuadMed

Quad founder Harry V. Quadracci created QuadMed in 1991 with the belief that there was a better way to provide our employees with affordable, quality health care. Today, Quad still cares for our employees, but we also partner with other major employers across the country to provide innovative, value-driven health and wellness services, onsite and virtually. QuadMed's mission is to break down cost, access, and quality care barriers, and empower employees to take control of their own health.

Determined to make a difference? Whether you're a clinician hoping to revitalize your approach to practicing medicine or a purpose-driven corporate professional, opportunities exist to help us push health care in a healthier direction.

Pride in driving excellence

Quad drivers have been at the heart of what we do for more than 50 years. They are forward-thinking, safety-oriented, and results-driven team players who make it possible for our customers to reach and inspire countless households every year. We are dedicated to taking care of every employee and rewarding their hard work with a range of benefits.

Health and well-being resources

Quad understands the unique challenge of being on the road and is committed to the physical and mental health and well-being of our drivers. That's why we've partnered with QuadMed and its team of wellness experts to develop programs that help our drivers run strong, at work and at home.

Competitive benefits and driver advantages

- Quarterly performance bonuses
- Flexible home time
- Excellent benefits package, including health, dental, vision, 401(k)—paid vacation and paid holidays
- Weekly pay via direct deposit
- Competitive per mile (OTR) or hourly (local) pay commensurate with experience
- Consistent no-touch freight: 90% of everything hauled is company product
- Dedicated driver managers
- Rider program
- Quality equipment: automated transmissions, APUs, and refrigerators/freezers

"I like the people I work with, and their ability to work with my home time requirements and get me home when needed—no questions asked. The compensation is excellent as well as the health benefits. I feel like a valued employee here. Working for the shipper, there will always be something to do here. We don't have to fight to get freight, we make it. That is why we are compensated better than most other carriers' drivers are."

Quad's Corporate Trainee Program is our rotational onsite program focused on providing professional development and on-the-job training for graduating students.

If you're one of the high-performing individuals accepted into our trainee program, you'll have the opportunity to work full time at one or more Quad locations in the U.S. and gain meaningful experience, in marketing, creative onsite management, sales, operations, customer experience and more.

Information Technology Internships

Information technology interns join our global team of nearly 400+ corporate IT specialists, allowing them to flex their talents in software development, data science, client technology, site support, and IT. During the summer, you'll work 40 hours a week at our corporate headquarters in Sussex, WI, with opportunities to continue your work remotely throughout the school year.

Accounting Internships

Accounting internships are based in Sussex, WI and offer students practical, real-world experience in financial reporting and operations. You'll gain invaluable early-career skills while working 20 hours per week throughout the school year and 40 hours per week during the summer. Due to the depth of training involved, a one-year commitment is strongly preferred.

Milwaukee Magazine Internships

Milwaukee Magazine and Milwaukeemag.com serve the Milwaukee metropolitan area. For 40 years, their mission has been to provide broad metro area coverage that is smart, fun, and fiercely independent. College credit internships are available each semester and summer and require a commitment of 15-20 hours per week. Internships are open to all students with a passion for journalism, design, photography, or marketing.

"All interns provide a fresh perspective on what we do since their relationship to technology, cultural touch points, and other trends differ from those in the workforce. Coming into team projects without bias toward the status quo allow for new ways of thinking and innovation."

Social responsibility

Over the decades, Quad has grown from a handful of employees in a single location to a worldwide family of more than 13,000. If there's one thing we've learned in all that time, it's this: together, we can do anything.

Everyone at Quad has the right to feel confident, appreciated, safe, valued, and able to bring their best selves to work each and every day. Each of us needs to know that we are understood. To achieve this, we listen, we learn, and we take action—for our people, our clients, and the communities where we live and work.

Creating an inclusive environment

Created by employees for employees, our business resource groups (BRGs) connect people with shared backgrounds and interests and encourage the growth and development of each member.
